In The Best Kind of Different, Shonda details every step in her family's journey through Asperger's, offering an intimate and candid portrait of this condition from a parent's point of voice. Shonda chronicles Grant's early years, confronts the guilt and pain that engulfed her after learning of her son's condition, and celebrates Grant's success in the two years since his diagnosis. With insight and helpful advice for parents, she provides an honest and moving glimpse insider her family- as two parents struggle to understand the complex beauty of their son. During this event, Shonda will share her family's story and follow up with a question and answer session.
